PITTSBURG SEARCHING FOR NEW PLAYERS.

Pittsburg, July 31.—The major league clubs are busily engaged now in grabbing players from the minor leagues for trial in the fall or next spring. Scouts are traveling all over the country these days to look at promising youngsters, and almost every day one hears of an option being secured by the majors.

Howard Earl is doing most of the scouting for the Pittsburg club. He has been at it now for several weeks and has already secured several men for the team. Bill Lange and Tom O'Rourke are keeping tabs on the Pacific Coast talent for Barney Dreyfuss, and Frank Eustace, an old player with the Louisville team, has picked up one man in the Atlantic League, and he has already been signed. However, his name is being kept secret for the present.

Eustace was the man who discovered Jack Miller, the Pirates' phenomenal second-sacker, when he was playing with the Easton team of the now defunct outland Atlantic League last summer. Several other men have claimed credit for picking up Miller, but President Dreyfuss the other day showed conclusive proof that the credit belongs to Eustace, when he produced from the files a letter he had received from the old player in June, 1908, calling attention to the fine work the youngster was doing for Easton, and advising that he be signed. Eustace was then managing the Pottsville team. Some years ago Colonel Barney did him a big favor, and at the time he remarked that he would return the compliment some day. The local magnate feels that in digging up Miller he more than evened old scores.

MURRAY BALKS ON THE DONLIN-M'GEE DEAL.

Philadelphia, July 31.—Unless the deal was spoiled by the premature announcement of a new stockholder in the club, Mike Donlin will be the future manager-captain-right fielder of the Phillies. Quite a baseball sensation was created in this city yesterday by these three quasi-official announcements from the office of Felix Isman, a new stockholder in the Philadelphia Club:

1. That Mike Donlin has been secured from the New York club in a deal engineered by Mr. Isman.

2. That Billy Murray will be deposited as manager at once, to be succeeded by Donlin.

3. That Felix Isman has acquired an interest in the club and will be a member of the board of directors henceforth.

During the day columns of stuff was published by the afternoon papers about this deal, all of it apparently coming from Mr. Isman. Then came those pesky Cardinals, minus the services of Manager Roger and Rudy Hulswitt, and after teasing us into believing for seven innings that we had the Indian sign on them, produced enough runs in the eighth and ninth innings to tie the game into a knot, and then proceed to do a little earth-wiping in the twelfth, with the Reds playing in the undignified role of the mop. It was a sad homecoming—one that will long produce a mirage of crepe and obituary notices in the minds of the local followers of the game.

Both Third Basemen Disabled.

However, this little matter of victory and defeat—with the "heavy" on the defeat—is not the only lachrymally nerve tapping stunt that has come off in our lagger in the recent past. Last week we lost, via the twisted hoof route, our finely-trained third baseman, Hans Lobert, who in trying to do a pas de suel while scooping up a beamish grounder, walked on his own ankle, causing the joint thereof to peevish to the extent that he will not be able to do anything in a baseball way but draw salary for some weeks to come. Following hard upon this semi-calamity came a duplicate on Sunday, when Mike Mowrey, our third baseman No. 2, bent one of the pins of his knee hinge, going down and out and adopting a crutch as the chief means of locomotion. That exhausted our visible supply of third basemen and compelled Higgins to take to third base, where he will stick until Lobert or Mowrey, or some new man, comes back to work.

DETROIT CONTINUES TO CLIMB IN PERCENTAGE.

Detroit, July 31.—Prior to starting their second Eastern trip, the Tigers went over to Cleveland to play two games with the Naps. An even break in the short series satisfied team and town, the Tigers at present having a neat lead in the race, and being only anxious to hold their standing relative to the Naps before hooking up with the Eastern clubs. The strength of Boston and the Athletics is not underrated, but as things

MOUNTAINEERS MADE ATTEMPT TO LYNCH NEGRO

ONE HUNDRED OF THEM, ARMED WITH RIFLES, STORMED JAIL, BUT SHERIFF HAD LEFT WITH PRISONER.

By Associated Press.

Middlesboro, Ky., July 31.—One hundred Tennessee mountaineers armed with Winchester, made an unsuccessful attempt last night to lynch James White, a negro who attempted to assault Mosie Woodward, 9 years old, in this city last Thursday.

The men marched through Middlesboro and took the Louisville and Nashville train for Pineville, Ky., where the negro was incarcerated for safe keeping. They stormed the jail, but found that Sheriff R. W. Johnson had spirited the prisoner away to Barboursville, Ky.

REDS NOT GOING AS WELL AS FORMERLY.

Cincinnati, July 31.—We're not as happy in this man's town this beautiful July morning as we might be or have a right to be. Some gloom vouchsafed us when our heroes of the bat and ball came home Sunday with only an even split as a result of their wanderings in the East, after starting off with a five-victory rush at Brooklyn. Then, to add impenetrableness to the aforementioned gloom, along came those pesky Cardinals, minus the services of Manager Roger and Rudy Hulswitt, and after teasing us into believing for seven innings that we had the Indian sign on them, produced enough runs in the eighth and ninth innings to tie the game into a knot, and then proceed to do a little earth-wiping in the twelfth, with the Reds playing in the undignified role of the mop. It was a sad homecoming—one that will long produce a mirage of crepe and obituary notices in the minds of the local followers of the game.

An even break in the short series satisfied team and town, the Tigers at present having a neat lead in the race, and being only anxious to hold their standing relative to the Naps before hooking up with the Eastern clubs. The strength of Boston and the Athletics is not underrated, but as things are going, local folks believe that the Naps are the boys whom Detroit must watch. Mack's men did not go as well in the West as they have been doing. Boston went along pretty nicely, but not as well as it had hoped to. Both lost ground.

The Athletics went at top speed here, and easily took the series from the Tigers. But after leaving Detroit they apparently suffered one of those slumps that all of the other contenters have had but that they had escaped previously. Boston seemed to be suffering from lack of strength in the pitching department. Lake had plenty of twirlers with him. But several he seemed to be afraid to risk against the hard hitting clubs, and the really reliable ones have been worked so hard that it is telling on them. The twirlers on whom he is depending can not go the pace at which they have been sent.
